Version 03/08/2015

Date	Status
27/03/2015	Version dated 27/03/2015 before public consultation
03/08/2015	Version dated 03/08/15 concerning chapter 1 of the ROB

1. ROB Legal Terms

This Reference Offer for Broadband Services ("ROB") defines the terms and conditions, which shall apply and be granted by POST Technologies to Other Alternative Operators ("Operators") for the provisioning of POST Technologies' Broadband Services as required by Regulation 14/176/ILR.

All Schedules attached to this ROB form an integral part hereof and detail the different Broadband Services and their respective applicable provisioning terms offered by POST Technologies under this ROB.

The Co-location services as referred to from time to time in this ROB are part of and subject to the applicable Reference Co-location Offer ("RCO") and shall be provided by POST Technologies to the Operators in compliance with the specific terms and conditions of the said RCO.

As from the effective date of a Broadband Agreement the Operator is subject to this ROB and any of its subsequent and/or to any reference offers replacing it, as from their date of definitive publication in compliance with the applicable regulations and, more particularly, in compliance with Regulation 14/177/ILR.

This ROB does not purport to diminish the rights of Operators to seek additional services nor POST Technologies' obligation to provide additional services under applicable law.

Apart from this ROB, POST Technologies' commercial offers as well as any other valid and applicable reference offer(s), if any, are still available to the Operator on request pursuant to their respective terms and conditions.

~~This ROB replaces the former broadband reference offers RDSLO, ORATH and OGB. The commercialization of new services of these former offers shall be terminated 3 months after the entry into force of this ROB. However, existing services of these offers shall remain in place after the entry into force of this ROB.~~

In accordance with the terms of Regulation 14/176/ILR, the following modalities are foreseen:

- At the moment of the entry into force of this ROB foreseen on 30.9.2015, the commercialization of services according to the terms of the RDSLO, ORATH, OGB and ORCE offers will cease with immediate effect.
- A delay of 3 months after the entry into force of this ROB is foreseen in order to activate the pending service orders.
- A delay of 6 months after the entry into force of this ROB is foreseen in order to migrate on the contractual side (« Paper Migration ») all RDSLO, ORATH, OGB and ORCE services active at the time of entry into force of the ROB to the new Broadband Agreement.
- As regards the physical migration of all current ADSL lines in place, purchased under the terms of the RDSLO, the Operator shall make its best endeavors in order to migrate 30% of its installed customer base on a yearly basis to the Broadband Services of the ROB. If this quota is not reached by the end of each contractual year, the lacking volume of the defined quota will be billed according to the tariffs foreseen in Schedule 6 of this ROB for commercially available Broadband Services with at least equivalent bandwidth profiles.
